Loews Philadelphia Hotel 1200 Market Street ♦ Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Located conveniently in the heart of Center City Philadelphia, the Loews Philadelphia Hotel is surrounded by historical and exciting things to do in Philadelphia. Philadelphia is a city steeped in the history of America. In a way, it's the city that started it all.

The Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution were signed in Philadelphia, in Independence Hall. And, of course, the Liberty Bell rang out the first call to freedom, in Philly. It's also a city of firsts: the first art school, the first African-American church, the first U.S. zoo, the first botanical garden and the first stock exchange all happened here. The "City of Brotherly Love" lives up to its nickname. It's been called the safest and friendliest city in America.

But Philadelphia is about more than its history. It is home to some of the best restaurants, nightlife, shopping, sports teams and sightseeing anywhere. And the Loews Philadelphia Hotel puts you right in the center of it all. Located in its own historic building right in the heart of Downtown, you're just steps away from all the very best this vibrant city has to offer. We're across the street from the Convention Center and the historic Reading Market, and minutes away from Philadelphia International Airport and Amtrak's 30th Street Station.

The room rate for SAMBA's 2nd Annual OBA at the Loews is $189 for single occupancy. Make your room reservation here. You can also call the Reservation Department at 1-800-235-6397; be sure to mention SAMBA to get the group rate. The deadline to make your reservation is August 23, 2013.
